

A Guide to Online Sources in Theological Study

This pathfinder for online sources in theological study is designed to provide the user with access to free citations, abstracts and full-text documents for the purposes of general research. The sites provide are all free or at least partially free to the researcher. The MTS Library can assist you in your research in theological studies. Please visit the library during open hours or contact the library staff at (734) 207-9581 x-323 for further assistance.

The Wasbash Center Internet Guide

http://www.wabashcenter.wabash.edu/resources/guide_headings.aspx

This is the most exhaustive resource available online for theological, Biblical and religious studies. While the guide itself does not provide theses and dissertations it will point the researcher in the direction of online dissertations in specific fields. The guide includes a variety of resources of interest, including electronic texts, journals, websites, bibliographies and more. The site is maintained by the Wabash librarians and is designed for teachers, however, the site is equally useful for the student.

Religion Online

<http://www.religion-online.org/>

This resource is maintained by William F. Fore and is kept fairly up to date. It includes a collection of essays and books by various theologians from diverse perspectives. The site is a very useful gateway to theological resources available online.

Sola Scriptura: A Reformed Theology Resource

<http://mbrem123.com/index.php>

A useful site covering Reformed theology from John Calvin to present. The site provides articles on many major reformed theologians as well as articles on theological topics. The site is maintained by Michael Bremmer and kept fairly well current.

Fides Quarens Internatum

<http://people.bu.edu/bpstone/theology/theology.html>

This site is a theological gateway maintained by Bryan Stone at Boston University. It offers links to theological societies, seminaries, libraries, discussions and other useful resources in the study of theology.

Internet Theology Resources: Systematic Theology

<http://www.users.csbsju.edu/~eknuth/itr/index.html>

This is an excellent guide to electronic primary texts in theology maintained by Elizabeth T. Knuth at the College of St. Benedict.

Bible.org

<http://www.bible.org>

This is the home of the NET Bible translation, but the site also offers scholarly articles by a variety of professors, pastors and other authors. A useful source for the study of theology and/or Bible.

Online Journals in Theology (for a very extensive list of free theological ejournals see http://www.atla.com/international_collab/resources.html)

Criterion

<http://divinity.uchicago.edu/research/criterion/>

Published by the University of Chicago Divinity School.

CTS Journal

http://www.chafer.edu/journal/back_issues.html

A publication of Chafer Theological Seminary; contains articles in biblical studies and theology.

Denver Journal: An Online Review of Current Biblical and Theological Studies

<http://denver-journal.densem.edu/>

This journal published by Denver Seminary is exclusively a review journal.

Institute for Reformed Theology Bulletin

http://reformedtheology.org/SiteFiles/Bulletin_Index.html

The IRT Bulletin is published three times a year and maintained at Union Theological Seminary (Virginia).

Journal for Christian Theological Research

<http://www.luthersem.edu/ctrf/JCTR/default.htm>

"An organ of the Christian Theological Research Fellowship"

Journal of Scriptural Reasoning

<http://etext.lib.virginia.edu/journals/ssr/>

A diverse journal offering articles from Christian, Islamic and Jewish points of view. This journal encourages theological, Biblical and philosophical discussion by the three religions

Journal of the Grace Evangelical Society

<http://www.faithalone.org/journal/index.html>

This journal is published twice yearly and offers scholarly articles in Biblical and theological studies.

The McMaster Journal of Theology and Ministry

<http://www.mcmaster.ca/mjtm/>

This is "an electronic journal that seeks to provide pastors, educators, and interested lay persons with the fruits of theological, biblical, and professional studies in an accessible form."

Quodlibet: Journal of Christian Theology and Philosophy

<http://www.quodlibet.net/>

This graphically intense site offers articles on a variety of theological, philosophical, and historical topics. The site emphasizes philosophy of religion and offers reviews as well as full text articles. Maintained by Scott David Foutz.

Theology Today

<http://theologytoday.ptsem.edu/>

Published by Princeton Theological Seminary and offers an extensive archive of back issues.

Wesleyan Theological Journal

http://wesley.nnu.edu/wesleyan_theology/theojrnl/index.htm

This site offers an archive of articles on various theological topics. Everything before 2000 is available online.